Geneva, March 20 (A.P.).—The Soviet disarmament plan submitted by Maxim Litvinoff for consideration by the preparatory commission on disarmament came up today for a round rating by Lord Cushendun, who succeeded Viscount Cecil as Great Britain's representative at Geneva. The British delegate plainly declared that, during all the efforts of the League of Nations for the past seven years, the Moscow government had reviled it, and, in his opinion, the Soviet delegates were at Geneva to show their scorn for the league and do it all the damage they could.

Lord Cushendun at the outset, looking straight at M. Litvinoff, said he was going to be frank. He carried out his promise.

"The Soviet delegation is not here to help the league solve the disarmament problem," said the British delegate, "and we have the right to ask what the real motive of the Soviet is."

Litvinoff for consideration by the preparatory commission on disarmament team up today for a round rating by Lord Cushendun, who succeeded Viscount proposal. But what kind of peace? There are international wars assume that that is the object of the Soviet proposal. But what kind of peace? There are international wars and there are civil wars. We are justified in doubting it, because they solemnly announce their intended in a recommendation of formetting repeated to shack the mask from the face of capitalist countries." He remarked that that was not indicative of a spirit of cooperation. Nevertheless, every item of the Soviet proposal, he added, ought to be carefully considered.

Today officers studying the submarine, now in drydock at the navy yard, found the painted buikheads of the tiller and motor compartments aft pitted with hammer marks. Several the tiller and motor compartments aft pitted with hammer marks. Several hammers and wrenches apparently had been used in this signaling, and the tools bore marks of such use. There were no marks of such use. There were no marks on the sides of the engine room as the hull of the submarine is double at that compartment and single at the motor and tiller rooms.

In their grim vigil as they awaited death the imprisoned men had gnawed potatoes and raw onions from the food supplies in the tiller room, the investigators said. One can of sardines had been opened and used. One bottle of oxygen had been opened, but another remained untouched.

Reconstructing the accident which had forced the crew to leave the central operating compartment and take refuge behind a watertight door in the after part of the ship, the efficers found the break in the ventilating pipe. This pipe conveys the gases from the batteries to vents in the hull, passing first through the control and motor rooms.

WALSH, OF MONTANA. ATTACKS PUBLICITY

DECLARES AL SMITH WILL NOT BE CALLED

Deplores Effect on "Priceless Reputations" of Revelations Preceding Witnesses.

(Associated Press.)

A rift in the Senate Teapot Dome committee between the youthful chairman, Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota. And the silver-baired prosecutor, Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, appeared on the horizon yesterday as the committee prepared to reopen its public hearings today.

For some time there have been under-surface indications of disagreements between the Republican and the Democratic senator and yesterday the Montanan brought the matter into the open with a formal statement generally viewed as criticizing the course of the chairman in certain matters.

"It is singularly unfortunate." Senator Walsh said, "that publicity should

"It is singularly unfortunate." Senator Walsh said, "that publicity should have been given to some of the plans of the committee, or what individual members conceive to be its plans, and equally that there should be allowed to be ome public information affecting priceless reputations until it is confirmed upon inquiry to such an extent as to warrant the development of the facts through witnesses."

That sentence appeared at the end of a statement by the Montanan in which he stated that the committee would ignore the demand made in the Senate yesterday that Gov. Alfred E. Smith be called before the committee "for the plain and simple reason it has no ground to believe that he can shed any light upon the subject of its inquiry."

The precise reasons for Walsh's strictures on the chairman were not specified, but those closely following the investigation accepted them as referring especially to Nye's announcement yesterday that the committee would investigate the records of the Harding estate and the permitting of reports to leak out at Chicago which since have limplelled both Associate Justice Frederick L. Siddous, of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals, to issue statements.

While Walsh's statement was in preparation, the chairman amplified his previous statement about the Harding estate inquiry by saying that the investigation would be comprehensive enough to encompass the questions of whether the late President became the recipient of "any returns whatever from any of the interests involved in the Continental Trading Co. and these other oil deals."

Likewise the chairman yesterday received a telegram from Lucius J. M. Malmin, of Chicago, asking for permission to make public correspondence "and facts" relating to the "mystery package" which went astray during its shipment from Chicago to Washington and which is now believed to have been a package of Christmas cards sent to Chief Justice Martin by his son-in-iaw, Adolph H. "This committee is making a thorough investigation, after which we may want to hear you and your informant. In the meantime you must be the judge of what you do witin this correspondence and the informa-tion you have."

In his announcement that Gov. Smith would not be called in response to the demand of Senator Robinson (Republican). Indiana, Senator Walsh called attention that the committee was "directed to investigate generally the leasing of the Naval Oil Reserve and specifically to ascertain what disposition was made of the bonds of the Continental Trading Co."

HOUSE COMMITTEE VOTES FARM EQUALIZATION FEE

Disputed Relief Proposal Is Placed in McNary-Haugen Bill, 13 to 8.

WILL BE REPORTED TODAY

Apparently it is necessary to be in this atmosphere and in the confidence of the Republican leaders to fully appreciate what the Martineau appointment meant to the Republican State organization. It came about as close to being a death blow as anything that readily can be imagined, according to the leaders here. By a vote of 13 to 8, the equalization fee principle of the McNary-Haugen fee principle of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill was approved yesterday by the House agriculture committee. Seven Republicans and Six Democrats voted in support of the fee, while six Republicans and two Democrats joined in opposition. After the vote, Chairman Haugen predicted that the bill would be favorably reported today, with probably nineteen members voting in its support. Mr. Haugen said that the equalization fee provisions in the House bill were practically the same as those in the farm relief bill recently approved by the Senate agricultural committee. Under the section applying to the fee, he added, the proposed Federal farm board would be directed to seek stabilization of the agricultural industry by first applying the loan stabilization of the agricultural industry by first applying the loan features of the bill. In the event that cooperative and other farm organizations should be unable to bring about stabilization in this way, he said, the board would be empowered to resort to the equalization fee.

The bill would authorize an appropriation of $400,000,000, of which $375.

000,000 would be available for loans to cooperatives and $25,000,000 for the purchase of equipment and other facilities needed by the cooperatives.

GIVE US DIRIGIBLES.

President Coolidge has asked Congress to provide for the building of the two dirigibles which have already been authorized, but which can not be built until further appropriations are made.

The voyage of the Los Angeles across the 'Atlantic, followed by its voyage to Panama and back, has demonstrated the feasibility of fast oceanic transportation by this means. Many experts are of the opinion that regular transoceanic travel by dirigible is at hand. British and German vessels are about to cross the Atlantic in the pursuance of plans for establishing regular lines.

In spite of their bulk, the airworthiness of dirigibles is now undisputed. Much progress has been made in the construction of dirigibles and their motive power since the loss of the Shenandoah. The Los Angeles has gone through gales unscathed. The only serious problems remaining, in fact, are in perfecting means for landing and taking off during heavy Once in the air, a dirigible will make headway against everything except a heavy gale, and its speed enables it to make up time even when it is temporarily baffled by the winds. Its carrying capacity gives it enormous advantages over an airplane for long-distance flight and for prolonged reconmaissance. Its possibilities as an airplane carrier and tender have not been developed, but are universally admitted.

The dirigibles already authorized will be much larger than the Los Angeles, with correspondingly greater carrying capacity and radius of action. This field of aeronautics, having been demonstrated to be practical and with great possibilities of development, should be occupied by the United States. Fifty years hence the American citizen will look back with astonishment at the skepticism and delay that enveloped this branch of aeronautics during this decade.

WILDCAT MOTOR BUSES.

Recommendation has been made that the Interstate Commerce Commission undertake to eliminate the "wildcat" motor bus operator. The 2,100 bus operators affiliated with the American Automobile Association, according to the association itself, will support such an undertaking fully.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has had an examiner studying the interstate bus situation for some time. His report constitutes a searching indictment of the "wildcat" operator. Frequently he is an individual of no financial or moral responsibility who owns only a minor equity in his single bus or second-hand motor car. He sometimes issues round-trip tickets and falls to make the refarn journey. He loses his passengers' bagsage and is unable to make financial restitufion. His vehicle breaks down and he has no funds with which to make repairs. Often he is involved in accidents. "In the present state of the law." the examiner continues. 'there is no regulatory tribunal to which inerstate passengers traveling in a motor vehicle an appeal for protection or reimbursement in case of accident or damage."

It appears certain that eventually the Interstate Commerce Commission, or a similar body. will have to assume jurisdiction over interstate motor vehicular operation. Buses daily are becoming of increasing importance in the national transportation scheme, and just as it was found necessary to place the railroads under regulatory control, so will it be necessary to regulate motor vehicles.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, how ever, no matter how enthusiastically it might attempt to regulate buses, could not completely eliminate the "wildcat" operator. Most bus lines run intrastate. In this field the Interstate Commerce Commission has no jurisdiction. Local jurisdictions must assume such regulation, particularly if the Interstate Commerce Commission should drive the "wildcat" operator from the interstate field.

WEIGHING THE EARTH.

Not satisfied with poetical expressions of the amazement like that of Job, "Who hangeth the earth upon nothing," scientists are bent upon ascertaining exactly the gravitational unit that would account for the suspension of the earth in space. The reason for its suspension is well understood, but estimate is still to be accomplished. Without this information much remains perplexing. Knowledge of the actual condition of the earth's interior is very meager. Despite the far ranging of the telescope and the precision of mathematical formulas for all known space. the very scientists who can predict to a day the return of a comet that has been traveling out of mortal ken for thousands of years, are yet unable to tell what is the state of affairs at the earth's center. How much is gas, how much solid material, how much molten substance? Twenty miles below the crust is too far for science to probe, as yet. However, by securing scales of gravitation, co to speak, in which to weigh the earth, the hope is expressed that it may be possible to gain a fair idea of the amount of matter that makes up the planet; and then by comparison with known bulks of solid and gaseous and fluid material, there may be arrived at, a gauge by which it will be possible to say for the bulk of the earth, whether one or another proportion of that bulk is solid substance, or whether one or another kind of rock and ore, gas or volcanic spume is preponderant. Science is seeking with the fulcrum of known facts to lift the earth into the scales of gravitation. With its weight fairly approximated, standards may thereby be found for the fixing by probable guess, the mass and density and weight of some of the other planets.

A BRITISH MERGER.

The combination of British cable and radio companies, practically forced by the government, has created a stir in American communications circles. Owen D. Young, chairman of the Radio Corporation, suggests that the combination creates a situation that threatens American supremacy in the field of international communications. A similar combination in the United States would be desirable, in his opinion, and although the White act expressly prohibits such a merger, it is believed that a concerted effort soon will be made, both from political and economic quarters, looking toward a unified American cable-radio service.

Immediate interest, however, centers in the absorption of the Mackay telegraph and cable companies by the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, the new unit to be known as the International Communications Co. The combined systems will have assets of $225,000,000 and will control a network of 125,000 miles of telephone and telegraph wires, affecting communications in all continents and in nearly all countries. Only one outstanding competitor-Western Unionremains in the cable field.

In a way this gigantic merger constitutes an answer to the British cable and radio combination by providing a unified system over which messages may be transmitted between almost any two separated points. The 5,000 Postal Telegraph offices in the United States provide an effective American distribution and collection system. All-America Cables, an International Telephone subsidiary, has an interchange of traffic agreement that sends most of the European-South American traffic via New York over Postal and thence southward. Western Union, therefore, undoubtedly will have to take steps to protect itself, and it is said to be highly probable that it will seek to tie in with the Radio Corporation.

In every quarter it is believed vitally necessary that cable-radio mergers are essential to the future development of the American communications system. It is pointed out that a radio company can be established with only one-tenth the capital investment necessary to create a cable system. The latter, however, has distribution contracts and systems of which radio stands in need.

The White act, enforcing the disintegration of the American communications system, may be outgrown. Indications point that way. particularly in view of the fact that England is forcing the integration of cable and radio. In peace or war the nation that is dependent upon another for interchange of communications is at a tremendous disadvantage. The question of modifying or repealing the White act should be given careful consideration.

STORY OF THE S-4.

The sunken submarine S-4 has been brought into port. After lying three months beneath 150 feet of water, she has been placed in dry dock, her melancholy cargo of men who died in the line of duty removed, and naval experts have gone inside her hoping to find clews pointing toward the cause of the disaster. Apparently they have found little to throw further light on the tragedy. Probably they never will.

Various theories have been advanced as to what happened in the submarine after she had been struck by the Paulding. The gash cut in her hull is surprisingly small-hardly large enough, in the opinion of several wellinformed experts, to have been the direct cause of her sinking. The crew, it appears, did not die instantly, and were finally overcome by instead of by drowning. theory is that the waters that did find their way through the gash reached the control board, causing a short circuit and a flash of flame that set fire to the insulation of the electric lines. Their subsequent burning, it is said, would have filled the battery room with acrid smoke. Those in the after compartments may have sensed the plight of those in the battery room, and may have opened the door to permit their escape into the engine and motor rooms which are aft of the control room. Thereafter entry into the control room would have been impossible, and it was only from the control room that an attempt could have been made to bring the S-4 to the sur face under her own power.

Yet everything aboard the submarine is covered with mud and silt. Those in whom the breath of life lingered apparently failed to leave written record of the tragedy. The story that has been pieced together is unsatisfactory and indefinite, but it is probable that no better one ever can be obtained from the meager clews that are available.

In the meantime the President has recommended that Congress appropriate $200,000 with which to investigate and experiment with safety devices for submarines. With the example of the S-4 tragedy before it, Congress should hasten to make available this sum, or any additional sum that may be needed as the investigations of and experiments with submarine safety devices proceed.

MAN AND THE WINDS.

The tragic end that came to the Hinchliffe transatlantic adventure has not served in the of the earth in respect to its density and mass slightest degree to discourage those planning similar flights. At least half a dozen European expeditions are planning to follow Hinchliffe as the season advances. Even though the crossing between the United States and Europe has been made successfully four times, others are planning to duplicate the venture during the coming season in single-motored land machines.

Lufthansa, the subsidized German flying service, has issued a statement saying that Hinchliffe's sacrifice was not needed to prove that transoceanic flights with present machines are irresponsible undertakings, whatever Lindbergh's and Chamberlin's "lucky ventures" may seem to prove to the contrary. Transatlantic flights, in its opinion, will not be feasible until multlengined machines built for service over the high seas are available. The statement epitomizes what appears to be the general opinion both in this country and abroad. Yet the challenge of the sea exists, and the human eagles, call them foolhardy if you will, stand poised again to meet it,

The National Aeronautical Association has come to realize the folly in further transoceanic flights, and is casting about for an "angel" to provide funds to divert interest from overwater distance flights. There is more to be gained, in the opinion of officials of the association, through completion of a nonstop flight from New York to a Pacific Coast city and return than in half a dozen intercontinental flights. The record in a round-trip coastto-coast flight would eclipse the present "closed acircuit" mark by more than 2,000 miles, and the air-line distance record by more than 1.000. It would prove an excellent and fair test of pilot and ship, since obviously it would be impossible to take advantage of a favoring wind. What is more to the point, it would make it possible for those who fail to tell other airmen and engineers what it was that cheated them of success.

A day or so ago Dr. J. E. Woodman, director of New York University's course in aeronautical meteorology, made the significant statement that aviators must learn to cooperate with the weather before flying can be made absolutely safe. Aviation, he said, being a young science, is apt to think it can conquer the weather. The sailor knows better. Centuries of experience have taught him that he must take what comes and make the best as well as the most of it. He can not tame the winds, but he can and does make servants of them. The air above the oceans, it becomes increasingly apparent, is no place in which to obtain such knowledge, and aviation would be well served if some way could be found to discourage the expeditions that are planning to span the Atlantic during the coming season. The scheme of the National Aeronautic Association to divert interest to another difficult undertaking through posting a handsome prize appears to be feasible.

ERRORS TRACEABLE TO SCHOOL.

The fact that all foreigners were looked upon as barbarians by the ancient Greeks is not so hard to understand when one remembers the difficulty, slowness, and infrequency that prevailed in international intercourse until quite modern times, and the unenviable qualities that a man is, naturally and in self-protection, inclined to ascribe to a stranger at first and until he has had the opportunity of knowing him better. Ignorance or, to put it a little more mildly, lack of information, is often at the bottom of distrust. Ignorance of one country by another is specially deplorable. A case in point is the unfavorable impression produced on many of the peoples of Europe by our attitude toward the Treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations-an impression due to a complete misunderstanding of our Constitution and of our principles and methods of government.

Such basic errors are usually traceable to the schoolroom. The impressions a child forms at school often last a lifetime, and an erroneous impression is, as a rule, the hardest to eradicate. The history books and the geography books in use are the most likely to be responsible for regrettable misconceptions. Up to a comparatively few years ago, the school histories, supplied in Great Britain and Ireland, said so little about the great struggle that rent this country asunder from 1861 to 1865; that there are numbers of men and women still alive and flourishing in the British Isles who look upon that momentous struggle as a petty war between a few farmers who took opposite sides on some obscure question.

In this matter the schools have scarcely kept pace with modern progress. A native of Australia, resident in London, complains in a letter to the Times that he found in a geography book, from which the Euglish schoolmates of his daughter get their first impressions of Australia, the following sentences: "In the north, where the country is hotter, palms and fruits are grown. There are grasslands where many sheep are raised and where some wheat is grown." His mildly indignant comment on these bizarre and prac-

When it is remembered that Australia is the leading wool producer of the world and one of the principal wheat experting countries, besides having a steadily growing fruit export trade-mainly from the south-the misleading nature of this description will be realized.

This properly sensitive and patriotic Aus tralian examined other schoolbooks and found so many of them absolutely at fault that he goes on record as saying: "The impression gained by children from these books fnevitably would be that Australia is inhospitable and unprogressive."

He finds that, in the last analysis, the responsibility rests with the publishers. That may or may not be so, but, if it is so, it places a tremendous responsibility upon every publisher of a schoolbook to leave no stone unturned to secure accuracy in what is presented to the impressionable minds of children.

The British air pioneer, Capt. Geoffrey de Haviland, has proved to those who still were skeptical that his slotted wing safety device is thoroughly practical. At the Stag Lane airdrome recently he deliberately put his tiny Moth airplane through maneuvers that no flier would dare attempt and that under ordinary circumstances would have spelled instant death. The slotted wings, however, functioned perfectly, opening up at the critical period, seemingly reaching out to grasp the air. The plane was smashed, but its pilot arose from the wreckage smiling and uninjured. Capt. de Haviland's invention undoubtedly will be the means of saving countless lives. The "foolproof" airplane, for which the world long has been awaiting, is a step nearer actuality.

American actors have countered to meet the barrier raised against them in England. English actors may only obtain employment in the United States now, according to a ruling made by the Equity Association, when their services are contracted for prior to their entry. When one considers the number of English actors and actresses that have been seen in this country during the past few years, it would seem that the foreign artists will suffer far more as the result of the new regulation than Americans who may have sought employment

Today's Job

=By ROBERT QUILLEN=

T HE greatest of all aids to happiness is common sense; the worst enemy of happiness is worry—which is to say that common sense and worry are opposites.

The phliosopher whose teachings are woven into the fabric of our civilization saw the folly in worry and warned against it. "Take no thought for the morrow," said he.

That is a simple saying, but many fail to understand it. "We must take thought for the merrow," they say, "or we will starve. Seed must from Congress will come when Congress be planted for tomorrow's harvest. If we thought only of today, there quits talking and adjourns. would be no building, no education, no development, no provision for

They overlook the fact that the exercise of common sense today makes utomatic provision for tomorrow.

You say the general's troops will be overwhelmed if he takes no thought for tomorrow. Not if he does the sensible thing today.

Today's job, dictated by common sense, is to dig trenches, post guards, stitutions that are to carry them and bring up ammunition. If these things are done today, tomorrow Taking no thought for tomorrow doesn't mean loafing today. If you act foolish today, it is quite probable that tomorrow will bring disaster. But you can avoid worry without being silly. Roosevelt saw a war coming and usurped authority to get the Navy ready for a fight. Was he taking thought for the morrow? Surely; but he was merely doing today the job imposed by logic and common sense. Today is the blueprint of tomorrow-the framework, the foundation, the seed. And tomorrow will ripen the seed sown today, whether you take thought or not. But If you do the sensible thing today, whether it is sowing or reaping, you can dismiss tomorrow from your mind. If the grain is ripe today, today's job is to cut it. That isn't taking aster. It was to be expected that thought for tomorrow's wheat, or next week's baking. That is taking opposition to this great project, thought of today's job.

White CAKE

1/2 cup Crisco 1 cup sugar 2 cups flour

14 cup Crisco 3 egg whites
1 cup sugar 2 cups flour 1 teaspoon vanilla
2 teaspoons baking powder 1 teaspoon salt

Cream Crisco with sugar. Stir in alternately milk and sifted dry ingredients. Fold in thoroughly stiffly beaten egg whites. Add vanilla and turn batter into two greased layer pans. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 20 minutes.

Ice with cocoanut or maple icing, or Crisco white icing.

Crisco White Icing

2 cups confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons Crisco
3 tablespoons milk

1 teaspoon almond or lemon extract 1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream Crisco with part of the sugar and salt. Add milk and rest of sugar and flavoring. Mix well.

Do you know of a more severe test for a shortening than in cake-making? Eggs, sugar, milk—each has its own natural flavor which join to make a delectable, full flavored cake. Unless your shortening is delicate, how can you expect the cake to be delicately flavored? Crisco makes a perfectly flavored cake with an even texture—and whiter than you've ever thought possible. Taste Crisco—its sweet flavor will delight you.

he centennial performance of works

Mme. Elsa Alsen will be the soloist at the centennial performance of works from the only concert Franz Schubert gave during his lifetime. This will take place at 10 o'clock tonight over the Columbia network and probably may be best picked up from here through WOR, Newark, which has been coming in pretty good of late.

Dr. John H. Finley will give an introductory talk on the Schubert Centennial and others to participate in the program will be Charles Harrison, tenor, and the Columbia Symphony Orchestra. A feature, to be known as the American Magazine Hour, will make its bow before the radio audience of WRC from 8 to 9 o'clock this evening. This new radio hour will contain adaptations and dramatizations of stories and articles appearing in that publication.

Milton Schwartz, young American violinist, will feature the Kitt Hour of Music at 7 o'clock this evening.

Donizetti's opera, "L'Elisir d'Amore," will be the presentation of the National Grand Opera ensemble at 10:30 o'clock tonight. The opera will be directed as usual, in tabloid form, by Cesare Sodero. It consists of two acts and was first produced in Milan, Italy, in 1832.

The Ipana Troubadours, who have recently added Smalle and Robertson to their ensemble in recognition of the arrival of spring, present music for the debut of this season at 9 o'clock this evening.

A daytime program at Station WRHF will include a household talk by Miss Gladys Young, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning, current history discussion by Miss Clara W. McQuown, the Victor half-hour, Radio Helps to the Listener, the Watch Tower, and Bible talks to little folks by E. F. Kellar.

Col. C. I. Stengel will take for hi opic over WTFF tonight "What Is Do-ng at the Capitol," followed later by n address by Representative S. B. Hill, STUDEBAKER an address by Representative 5. Bill, of Washington State. Another speaker on the program will be John C. Bacon, the mayor of San Dlego, Calif., who will talk on "Yesterday and Today." Chick Godfrey, the "Singing Leatherneck," also will be heard. Ask Us to Let You Drive It

The third of a series of radio pageants entitled "Turning Points in Jewish Htstory" will be broadcast from Station WEAF in New York at 7 o'clock tonight. The pageant is entitled "Moses in Mid-lan."

It was written by Dr. Elias Margolis, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., and will be presented to the radio audience under his direction. Participating in it will be the dramatic players of the Emanuel Synagogue of Mount Vernon, the Halevi Singing Society directed by Leon M. Kramer and A. Gorodner, of the Hebrew Art. Ensemble.

How will it work? Fine. Papa can finish his sporting page, mother her story of "The Confession of a Girl Who Left Home." Momsie's precious darling you can just bet will find out for herself.

Of course, we may not like the manner in which she discovers things in the little dugout she and little Billie built in the back yard, nor the wrong slant she gets on life because confidence in her parents' patience and knowledge has been shattered. But, of course, never mind: "What a child doesn't know won't hurt her." "Some day I'll hand her a book and let her read it for herself." forgetting that what we do not know is often the very thing which does harm us and that to hand out suddenly a big bunch of information is like watering a plant once. out suddenly a big bunch of informa-tion is like watering a plant once a

A sincere parent must learn to say. "I don't know," but add, "How would it do to find out?" "Why am 1 a girl and not a boy?" however, requires more research and brings less satisfaction than perhaps any other child question. How embarrassed we are when disn'psy darling wants to know whether bales come from mixing pans, doctors' bags, lawyers' brief cases or black crows! How we duck the questions! How many of us there are who sigh and wish that we could use on spare moments to make our own dressee! If we could only sew, well would have many lovely new frocks and keep up with the changes of fashion much more satisfactorily than we can at present. We could have a far more extensive wardrobe, too, if we could only sew.

But seems, A well-cut pattern, a little patience and a little attention paid to instructions are all that is necessary for any one to add new dresses to their wardrobe at very little cost.

For instance, the dress we have sketched herewith is smart and easy to make. It is smart because it is trimmed with diagonal lines of fagotlots of polka dots and spots of all kinds. Polly remembers seeing an ensemble with a blouse of embroidered polka dots in colors. The coat to it was long, and of kashmir. There are drosses, too, with polka dots and a scarf brought out by Chanel that shows them to advantage. Special to The Washington Post.

New York. March 20.—Following a brief period of general weatness at the opening of the stock market today, the upward movement was resumed in several divisions of the industrial list, but the railroads lagged, many of them dosing ground on the day. Radio and Minited States Cast Iron Pope again were the spectacular features of the market, gaining 18 and 17 points, respectively, and the latter attaining a new high for all time, at 253.

General Motors was another outstanding leader, advancing to a new high at 174, then declining to close at 173, a net advance of 5 points. Builish Am.

173, a net advance of 5 points. Bullish operations in this leader caused renewed interest in several other members of the automotive group, resulting in several substantial net advances, notably in Hupp, Hudson, Yellow Truck, Willys Overland, Chrysler and Graham Paige.

United States Steel common moved within a 2-point range, closing where it left off yesterday. Movements in independent steel company shares were duil and uninteresting.

Mackay common and preferred both sold off sharply, the former losing 8% net and the other 4. Movements here were accompanied by a drop of 3½ points net in International Telephone at Telegraph. Recessions in the stock of these two corporations were credited to profit taking partly induced by reports that the reported merger arrangement was much further off and more uncertain than had been thought.

For the eighth consecutive session the folial sales were well over 3,000,000 today. Price movements were persistently erratic, many issues swinging back and forth violently. At the close the market was irregular, with gains slightly in excess of losses.

What's Your Average?

URN back over the years you have been making investments and consider your average profit from speculations. Weigh your losses against your profits, add in your dividends, and compute your net return. Has it been more than 6%? If it hasn't, you aren't investing your money wisely.

The time, thought and labor attached to buying and selling for a profit is worth money to you and it should show up in your return. Otherwise you should consider the advantages of buying First Mortgage Notes through Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Company, where you are assured of a steady 6% return, year in and year out, without any personal attention on your part at all. And you are also sure that the original amount of your investment will be returned to you intact at a specified time.

Which do you prefer? We are here to serve you if you are looking for safety and peace of mind after your investment has been made.

Trading in the foreign department was extended over an unusually long list, but individual transactions were moderate and prices irrgeular. Republic of Colombia 6s duplicated their previous peak, but French obligations, which have been advancing on the retrement of the 8 per cent dollar bonds, were fractionally lower on realizing.

Firm prices characterized the United States Government group and moderately large buying of the Treasury issues developed after a slow start.

100,000 Shares Noma Electric Corporation

Common Stock Transfer Agent: Bankers Trust Company, New York City Registrar: The Chase National Bank of the City of New York

(Upon Completion of Present Financing)

Anthorized Common Stock (No Par Value) ... This stock is a purchase from individuals and does not represent financing on the part of the corporation. ..225,000 Shares (No Bonds or Preferred Stocks are either Outstanding or Authorized)

Salient features, as summarized by Mr. Joseph Block, President of the Corporation, from his letter:

History and Business: In June, 1925, the Noma Electric Corporation was incorporated in New York State with a nominal capital of $10,000 for the purpose of providing a nucleus around which the leading companies in the field of Christmas tree and decorative lighting could group themselves. In 1926 the capital was increased to $200,000, and the Noma Electric Corporation did about 35% of the decorative lighting business done in this country. In 1927 additional companies were absorbed, until today the management estimates that the Corporation has about 80% of this business. The Corporation is the leading factor in the field.

Products and their Distribution: The Corporation's products include sets of all kinds for Christmas, Thanksgiving, Hallowe'en and other holidays, together with outdoor sets for carnivals, lawn parties and celebrations.

As an indication of the volume of the business, the Corporation used last year over 35,000,000 incandescent Mazda lamps. It has built up splendid jobber connections, and has over five hundred authorized distributors of Noma Decorative Lighting Products, including the leading jobbers of this country. A substantial portion of the output of the Corporation is taken by the leading chain store syndicates. Last year for the first time these products had the benefit of national advertising, and the value of this is reflected in the profits for the year 1927.

Earnings: The earnings of the business for the period commencing March 1, 1927, and ended February 20, 1928, as certified by Messrs. S. D. Leidesdorf & Co., and for the two preceding calendar years, as reported by the management, are TAMPA, Fla., March 20.—Except for some rather weird playing on the part of Shortstop Grant Gillis in the first inning, when it appeared that he simply refused to make two force plays at second base, the Nationals would have shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers here this afternoon. As matters turned out, the Nats turned in a 6-to-2 victory.

In scoring this triumph, Manager Harris has many things to be thankful for. Fred Marberry, for instance, granted but four hits in five frames and looked to be the great pitcher of 1924 and 1925, fanning no less than seven of the Dodgers in this short shift. Horse, Special to The Washington Post.

citizen. After the international games at Amsterdam, he plans to sail for America in September to spend the better part of the following year studying American sports and educational methods and to engage in a number of competitive races.

Peltzer feels that the fact that he was allowed to compete in only three races in 'his first American tour did not allow him sufficient time to acclimate himself or to get used to indoor racing.

Peltzer now is at his home in Wickersdoof, near Stettin, where he will resume teaching school.

West Again Considered as Successor to Tris Speaker.

By FRANK H. YOUNG
(Staff Correspondent of The Post).

TAMPA, Fla., March 20.—With the announcement, made tonight, that he considers Grant Gillis as the regular Washington shortstop, for the time being, at least, Manager Harris is slowly but surely lining his Nats for the season to come. Four questions were up to him to answer when he brought his charges here for spring

All are good natural fielders and it was the impression here that the best hitter would land the berth. However, there appears to be no best hitter, at least none has hit his weight in the "grapefruit league" games played so far, so that fielding, after all, apparently de-cided the question.

Mullen has been "elected. Also to Bar Hildreth

This leaves the outfield doubtful and the tests which Sammy West passed yesterday when he gave his ailing less

> The preseason "dope" that Sam Rice would have a hard job holding on to his right field job seems to have been forgotten, so that if West has no more trouble with his underpinning, all that is left for Harris to figure out is which of the other outfielders will be retained.

All outfielders appear to be in the running at this time, with the odds constantly shifting. At one time, i looked as though Melburn Simons was out of the race, but he has been coming in leaps and bounds, both afield and at bat, and rates near the top at this writing. Ganzel is almost sure of being retained, leaving Kloza, Barnes and Simons to fight it out for the other utility berth.

Simons to fight it out for the other utility berth.

And, according to Johnny Dobbs, Birmingham manager, who sent all three to the Nats, Simons is the best of the trio. However, Harris is the one to do the selecting. He is particularly "sweet on" Barnes, but admits that the others are good, too, and that he is not yet ready to make a definite decision, especially as he does not have to for some time yet. He has intimated that, unless one shows himself to be outstandless one shows himself to be outstand ing he will hold on to all of then until June 15, the reducing time limit efore casting his vote.

BEGGAR BOY BEATS COLOR SERGEANT AT JEFFERSON

Favorite Fails In Stretch Drive

Pipestem Wins Fourth as Half of Field Is Left in Gate.

Blackamoor Triumphs Over Mome Presse by Head in Third.

JEFFERSON PARK. New Orleans, March 20 (A.P.).—Mrs. R. M. Hoots' Beggar Boy, with Landoit in the saddle, defeated the odds-on favorite, Color Sergeant, in the Pass Christian Handleap, the best offering on today's eard here. Beggar Boy had won his last two races, and each winning effort showed a better race.

Patsy Jane got away flying but Beggar Boy ran up to her and in the sixteenth of a mile made the filly step. Beggar Boy then drew away but in the stretch Color Sergeant, which was taken to the outside, closed with a rush but he could never get up to Beggar Boy, who won by a length. Color Sergeant took the place by five lengths. The 5½ furlongs were run in 1.05 3-5. Which is just one-fifth of a second slower than the track record.

Jockey Frances Horn, who rode Beggar Boy on March 13 and was defeated was suspended today indefinitely by the stewards for his unsatisfactory ride.

Beggar Boy in that race was allowed to drop back on the stretch turn and then came again to land third money. Since that race Beg-gar Boy has started twice and won both races, and in his race today ran the 51/2 furlongs in 1:05 3-5.

The fourth race, which was made out The fourth race, which was made out of the starting gate, resulted in a very bad start. Half of the field was left which included Gad, the well played good thing. The winner turned up in Pipestem which paid $17.00 for a $2 ticket. Dreama Lee cut out the early pace, but in the stretch Root, who had the mount, rushed Pipestem into the lead and she won by a length. Cruelty finished second, defeating Pandy by a length for the place.

The final event was won by Grand King, with Miss Chiniquy second and Solo third.

In a driving finish Blackamoor, well played, won the third event, a mile and a quarter event, by a head from Mome Presse, with Plain Dealer third. Mome Presse broke fast and led around the first turn. However, Horn, who had the mount, eased her back, but kept the mare up in a good position, intending to make it a sprint in the last quarter mile. Mome Presse came with a rush in the stretch, but Blackamoor was too much for her and won by a head. Mome Presse took the place by a length from Plain Dealer.

Mr. Kirkwood, with Horn up, won the second event, a 6-furlong sprint, but his margin was very small. Blue Darter was second and

The favorite players suffered a severe setback in the first race when Klud Words, with L. Morris up, finished a poor third. The winner turned up in Reflector, with Sporting Blues second.

Reflector quickly ran into a long lead and turned into the stretch leading by five lengths. The race was as good as over and in the final sixteenth Dellow, who had the mount, took things rather easy and the colt won by three lengths.

class, The Victors will meet the charpion 100-pounders of Baltimore for the South Atlantic A. A. U. title. In last season's tourney, the little Cadets advanced to the zer ifinals of the 100pound class before 'hey were eliminated by the Boys' Club Optimist Team.

By virtue of their victores, the Jewish Community Center and the De Luxe teams advanced to the finals of the 130-pound class. The Community Center Quintet proved too speedy for the Hibbs Co. Basketers, winning by a 29-16 margin, while the De Luxe defeated the Alexandria Celtics. These quintets will clash on Saturday night for the District 130-pound title.

The decisiveness of the St. John's Victor-Senator Whirlwind fray was somewhat surprising. The Victors almost doubled the score on the Whirlwinds, winning, 27 to 14. The Victors

Senator, at Odds With Nye, Scores Announcements of Committee Plans.

Deplores Effect on "Priceless Reputations" of Revelations Preceding Witnesses.

(Associated Press.)
A rift in the Senate Teapot Dome committee between the youthful chairnan, Gerald P. Nye. of North Dakota, and the silver-haired prosecutor, Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, appeared on the horizon yesterday as the committee prepared to reopen its public hearings today.

committee prepared to reopen its public hearings today.

For some time there have been under-surface indications of disagreements between the Ropublican and the Democratic senator and yesterday the Montanan brought the matter into the open with a formal statement generally viewed as criticizing the course of the chairman in certain matters.

"It is singularly unfortunate." Senator Walsh said, "that publicity should have been given to some of the plans of the committee, or what individual members conceive to be its plans, and equally that there should be allowed to become public information affecting priceless reputations until it is confirmed upon inquiry to such an extent as to warrant the development of the facts through witnesses."

Will Not Call Al Smith.

That sentence appeared at the end of a statement by the Montanan in which he stated that the committee would ignore the demand made in the Senate yesterday that Gov. Alfred E. Smith be called before the committee "for the plain and simple reason it has no ground to believe that he can shed any light upon the subject of its in-

The precise reasons for Walsh's strictures on the chairman were not specified, but those closely following the investigation accepted them as referring especially to Nye's announcement yeaterday that the committee would investigate the records of the Harding estate and the permitting of reports to leak out at Chicago which since have impelled both Associate Justice Prederick L. Siddons, of the District of Columbia Supreme Court, and Chief Justice George E. Martin, of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals, to issue state The precise reasons for Walsh's stric-lumbia Court of Appeals, to lasue state-ments.

While Walsh's statement was in preparation, the chairman amplified his previous statement about the Harding estate inquiry by saying that the in-vestigation would be comprehensive enough to encompass the questions of whether the late President became the recipient of "any returns whatever from any of the interests involved in the any of the interests involved in the Continental Trading Co. and these other oil deals."

Mystery Witness Offered.

Mystery Witness Offered.

Likewise the chairman yesterday received a telegram from Lucius J. M. Maimin, of Chicago, asking for permission to make public correspondence "and facts" relating to the "mystery package" which went astray during its shipment from Chicago to Washington and which is now believed to have been a package of Christmas cards sent to Chief Justice Martin by his son-in-law, Adolph H. Sus, an employes of the Sinciair Refining Co. at Chicago. This was last December when the Sinciair-Burns oli contempt case was being heard.

Malmin a former Federal district judge in the Virgin Islands, said let-ters and dates seemed to corroborate the information given to him by a "mystery" witness, now known only

"I would not place myself in the postion of seeming to say what you shall or shall not say or do," Nye replied to Malmin's request. "This committee is making a thorough investigation, after which we may want to hear you and your informant. In the meantime you must be the judge of what you do with must be the judge of what you do with tion you have.'

Deplores Politics.

In his announcement that Gov Smith would not be called in response to the demand of Senator Robinson (Republican), Indiana, Senator Walsh called attention that the committee was "directed to investigate generally the leasing of the Naval Oil Reserve the leasing of the Naval Oil Reserve and specifically to ascertain what disposition was made of the bonds of the Continental Trading Co."

"The committee would forfeit whatever measures of respect it has earned through its labors if it could be prevailed upon to go outside of the field prescribed for it by the resolution under which it acted," he added, "and would deserve universal contempt if it did so to promote or impair the political prospects of any individual or party. I find it difficult to conceive that the suggestion that Gov. Smith be called

Marsh to Be Questioned.

"I am convinced, however, that the duty of the committee is plain to resist all such appeals and that any departure is more than likely to result disastrously to the value of its work."

At its session tomorrow, the committee is to question Wilbur W. Marsh, of Waterloo, Iowa, formerly treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, about Democratic party financing in 1023 and other years, and also on other matters.

false and these statements were recklessly made.

"A careful search of the official records made at my request today conditioned my recollection that Mr. Sinclair never contributed to my campaign fund either in 1920 or at any other time that I ever ran for office; in fact, I failed of election as governor in 1920 and Mr. Sinclair had been appointed to the racing commission months prior to that election, some four years before the was any thought of the oil scandals. A few months before the end of his term, early in 1925, I accepted his resignation.

Marsh has already denied that he entered into any agreement with the late Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, not to make a report on campaign contributions and expenditures in 1923. Two former associates of Upham, Iri C. Hippeley and N. V. Leonard, have teatified that Upham told them Marsh had suggested that no reports be made.

The investigators also had expected to interrogate Merrit Baldwin, of Meriden, Conn., today, but he will not appear until Friday. They have information that he was with Harry F. Binclair in a confidential capacity from 1932 to 1934.

Sullivan, Ind., March 20 (A.P.).—The trail of the missing Continental Trading Co. Liberty bonds today had led to Sullivan. Ind., the home town of William. Ind., the home town of William Co., the missing Liberty bonds are presentative of Senator Nye, was here to investigate.

Fisher questioned Sullivan citizens and checked at different Sullivan banks in an attempt to prove or disprove that a block of the missing Liberty bonds of the Continental Co. had passed through the hands of Sullivan citizens.

The investigator refused to comment on the local clues he was following, but itdicated they were regarded as reliable, and that they would be closely checked and the result referred to the Senate committee of which Nye is chairman. The clues are supposed to have been developed in the recent investigations at Chicago and Washington.

LABOR LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY BIG SUCCESS

Woll Reports That $209,506 Surplus Was Collected During Year.

LOCAL MARKET IS FIRMER

By F. W. PATTERSON.
At the second annual meeting of stockholders of the Union Labor Life Insurance Co., to be held in Baltimore today, the company being a Maryland corporation, President Matthew Woll will say that the company has surpassed expectations, has in its nine nonths of insurance writing reached passed expectations, has in its nine months of insurance writing reached the point where expense is met from earned income and has in force $1,-223,000 of insurance in individual policies and has applications pending for $400,000 more of ordinary or individual insurance.

The annual report lays greater emphasis on group insurance for trade unions than upon individual policies, and is shown that there is in force group insurance covering more than $50,000 organized workers to the extent of more than $34,000,000.

"The development of this company for group insurance purposes is one of the greatest steps organized labor has ever taken," says Mr. Woll's report. "The Union Labor Life Insurance Co. is no longer an experiment. The results of our short period of operation are remarkable. The prospects for the future defy prediction.

The report shows that though the year, being the initial year of business, involved heavy initial expense and little income, the company closed 1927 with a surplus of $209,506, and total assets of more than $518,000, of which amount $24,622 was in cash.

The company, with its main offices in Washington, has been licensed to do business in 34 States and the District of Columbia and is now preparing to enter Massachusetts and Canada. It now has five general district agencies in operation and a branch office in New York.

Officers of the company are Matthew Woll, president; Thomas E. Burke, vice president; James D. Maddrill, vice president and general manager; George W. Perkins, vice president and Western representative; Rainard B. Robbins, vice president-actuary; Luther C. Steward, secretary-assistant treasurer, and Martin F. Ryan, treasurer.

David N. Houston was yesterday elected trust officer of the American Security & Trust Co. The action of the board of directors is in keeping with the established custom of the institution to make promotions from within the organization.

Mr. Houston entered the service of the American Security & Trust Co. as chief clerk in the trust department in 1908, going there from the law offices of Alexander H. Bell, and on April 16, 1912, he was elected an assistant trust officer, and with his election yesterday now steps up to the position of trust officer.

The new trust officer was graduated from Dickinson College in 1900 with a Ph. D. degree; Columbian College, now George Washington University, in 1903 with the degree of LL. B., and passed the District of Columbia bar examination in the same year.

CURB MARKET REVIEW.

New York, March 20 (A.P.).—Prices throughout virtually the entire list rose as successive waves of buying swept through the curb market today. There was some realizing at the higher levels particularly in the closing hour, burnost issues resisted selling and losses were held to a minimum. Strength of the motor and accessory issues and some chain stores were atmong the features.

some chain stores were atmong the fea-tures.

The strength of the motor shares evidently reflected prosperous condi-tions in the industry. Ford, of Canada, swept up 21 points to a new high, at 605, lost all its gain, but later re-covered 15 points. Rolls Royce pre-ferred advanced 4 points. U. S. L. Bat-tery and Marvel Carbureter about 2 points each and Auburn and Marmon 1. Profit-taking forced Checker Cab Manufacturing down more than a point.

Manufacturing down more than a point.

The chain store issues were strong early in the day, but showed some irregularity at the close. A. G. Spalding and Southern Stores A reached new high levels, while Dominion, Kinnear, Safeway and Meiville Shoe advanced 2 to 4 points each.

Canadian Marconi again had a heavy turnover, but closed, with its partners in the recent advance. Marconi Wireless, of London, and Spanish and General only slightly higher.

Gains in radio issues reflected the renewed activity of radio on the "big board." Ruberoid, Selberling and Firestone Tire advanced 2 to 7 points, but Hood Rubber was weak.

Among other issues to reach ne highs were Altas Plywood, Seems Bros., New Jersey Zinc, Mavis Corportion, Grief & Bros. preferred, Lenig Portland Cement, Catterpillar Tract and Celotex. Failure of an expect extra dividend to materialize caused loss of nearly 2 points in New Moi Mines.

loss of nearly 2 points in New Mont Mines.

Profit-taking caused some late recessions in the generally buoyant utilities. American & Foreign Power warrants, Buffalo, Niagara & Eastern A, Electric Investors, Northern Texas Electric and United Gas Improvement reached new high ground. Electric Bond & Share, Biackstone Valley issues, American Light & Traction and United Electric certificates declined as much as 2% points. points.

Oils and pipe lines were rather inactive, although late in the day they showed some strength. Cities Service again reached new high ground. Prairie Pipe Line advanced 2 points.

Copies of a letter from Mr. Henry S. McKee, President of the Company, setting forth information regarding the Company and these issues of Stock, may be obtained from the undersigned. Mr. McKee gives the substance of this letter in part as follows: HISTORY AND BUSINESS SALES AND PROFITS "Barker Bros. Corporation (a Maryland company) has been formed to acquire all or substantially all of the outstanding common stock of Barker Bros. Incorporated (a Delaware company), which is the operating company.

Since its foundation in 1880, the business has gained a dominant position on the Pacific coast both as to character and size in the field of the distribution of complete furnishings and equipment for homes, apartments, hotels, public buildings and offices. In its new home in the high-class shopping district of Los Angeles, the Company occupies selling space in excess of 10 acres on 14 floors in 64 merchandise departments where an average of over 5,000 retail customers buy or inspect merchandise every day. The retail delivery trucks cover an area of approximately 750 square miles and a considerable volume of merchandise is also shipped into neighboring states. While Barker Bros, is not a department store, it is more can a furniture store; it enjoys many of the advantages of ach. An experienced staff of decorators and artists for the planning of a complete scheme of interior decoration and for planning of a complete scheme of interior decoration and for the designing of distinctive specialties is placed at the disposal of the customers of the store. Barker Bros. was the first store of its kind to establish an "Exchange Basement." In this department is sold at attractive prices the reconditioned second-hand furniture which has been accepted in trade for new goods. The "Exchange Basement" is of great help in extending the sales of other departments and also returns a satisfactory profit.

satisfactory profit. The business is largely self-contained. It operates at a satisfactory profit one of the largest upholstered furniture plants in the United States, the output of which is marketed in the store, as well as a plant for the manufacture of box springs, mattresses, pillows and window shades.

The section served by the store has doubled in population in the last seven years and trebled in fifteen years. The development of the business centers of Hollywood and Beverly Hills has prompted the establishment of a branch at Hollywood. This store with its six floors is almost a complete unit in itself and has done a flourishing business from its establishment in October, 1927. A branch is also maintained at Long Beach and a studio and sales office at San Diego.

In practically all of the time sales, title is retained until the merchandise is fully paid for and repossession is very rare. Losses from bad accounts have averaged during the last nine years less than ¼ of 1% of sales.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE

The proceeds of the sale of $3,000,000 Convertible 6½% Cumulative Preferred Stock and 35,000 shares of Common Stock will be utilized to retire the First and Second Preferred Stocks of Barker Bros. Incorporated (operating company) to be called for redemption. The balance of the Common Stock included in this offering does not represent financing by the

SALES AND PROFITS

The consolidated net sales and net profits of Barker Bros. Incorporated and its predecessor companies, for the nine years ended December 31, 1927, after deducting all charges including ample depreciation, and Federal taxes at rates in force for 1919-21 inclusive and thereafter at 13½%, as certified by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., were as follows:

During its entire existence of 48 years the business has never failed to earn a profit in any year.

The large increase in the Company's profits in the year 1923 was due to the abnormal activity in building in Southern California during that year. During 1925 large expenditures in cident to moving into the new location were charged against profits. The business actually moved into its new location early in 1926 and is now beginning to realize the benefit from these additional facilities.

The Board of Directors will place the Common Stock on an annual dividend basis of $2.00 per share by the declaration out of net profits applicable to such dividends earned subsequent to December 31, 1927, of an initial quarterly dividend of 50e per share, payable not later than October 1, 1928.

The consolidated balance sheet of Barker Bros. Corporation and subsidiaries as of December 31, 1927, as certified by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., after giving effect to the formation of the new company and to the recapitalization and transactions incidental thereto, shows net tangible assets of $3,209,801.75 or the equivalent of $273.65 per share of Preferred Stock presently to be outstanding. The operating company's leasehold on its new store property extends approximately 33 years without any increase in rent. Good-will is included on the balance sheet at $1.00. ASSETS the balance sheet at $1.00.

MANAGEMENT

The management will continue in the hands of those who are now guiding the policies of the business. The balance of 73,200 shares of Common Stock presently to be outstanding and not included in this offering will be held for the most part by men active in the management. A member of Goldman, Sachs & Co. and an officer of Field, Glore & Co., Inc. will be invited to join the Board of Directors of the Company."

CHEVY CHASE, D. C. Colonial Brick Detached $20,000

We have just been authorized by an out-of-town owner to offer this individually built residence at a figure which places it head and shoulders above any similar properties in this section. Designed along colonial lines, it is of the center-entrange-hall plan, with a very practical and livable first-floor arrangement. There are 4 bedrooms, sleeping porch and 2 tile baths on the second floor, with large attic above. The house is comparatively new, modern, and a feel with the comparative transport of the comparative first and weather-stripped and has built-in garage. Keautiful 10t, 00x160, with fine evergreens, several fruit trees and grape arbor. A decided bargain that is well worth your immediate inspection.

Stewart-Warner Speedometer Corporation

Originally a manufacturer of automobile accessories, the Stewart-Warner Speedometer Corporation has attained a wide diversification of output. Whfle retaining an important place in its initial field, it is prominent in the pro duction of die castings for a varied list of articles; casters, furniture trimmings, automobile and miscellaneous hardware; lubricants and lubricating equipment for all motorized machinery; and radio parts and complete sets. The company has nine plants located in the United States, CF ada. and Santo Domingo, West Indies. Its properties include large hardwood timber resources. A comprehensive system of owned or centrolled distributing facilities has been developed, including service stations in America and foreign countries. The company's growth has been due in large part to acquisition of subsidiaries already well established in various lines, and this variety of products is a stabilizing factor.

This company in November, 1927, put on the market a cigar-cigarette lighter known as "Pass-a-Lite," which was well received. It is now making exhaustive tests of a tire chain possessing valuable commercial characteristics, so it is reported

There is no direct funded debt, but a subsidiary has bonds to the amount of $875,000 outstanding.

Local Market Firm.

Yesterday's session of the Washingon Stock Exchange was marked by a alling off in volume of transactions rom Monday but this had little effect on price levels of the issues in which there was trading.

Washington Gas Light sold in two lot; at 89%, eased to 89% on another sale and returned to opening figure on final sale. Potomac Electric Power 51% per cent preferred which closed Monday at 107% started the day this quotation but parted with a fra tion on the next and only other so tion on the next and only other sale which was recorded at 107½. Terminal Refrigerating & Warehousing Corporation sold in a small lot unchanged at 50, while Mergenthaler Linotype gained to 103½. Riggs National Bank sold in a 10-share lot at 501.

The bond side of the market was also quiet with sales recorded only in Capital Traction 5s at 104 and Washington Railway & Electric 4s at 93%.

Decrease in Car Loadings. Revenue freight loading for the week ended on March 10 totaled 951,553 cars, a decrease of 7,884 cars when compared with the preceding week, decreases being reported in the loading of grain and grain products, live stock, forest products and merchandise less than carload lot freight. Compared with the corresponding week last week the the corresponding week last year the loadings for the week ended March 10 show a decrease of 49.201 cars, according to report of the American Railway Association made public yesterday.

CONFEREES START SECRET SESSIONS ON MERGER TODAY

Revision of Pending Agreement May Allow Approval by Commission.

PLANS ARE INDEFINITE ON CLOSED-DOOR ACTION

Federation to Assail Pact if Modifications Are Opposed by Committee.

Negotiations behind closed doors between the Public Utilities Commission and the local traction interests will be gin at 10 a. m. today in an effort to reach such revision of the pending merger agreement as will permit the commission to ratify it and recommend it mission to ratify it and recommend it to Congress.

Representatives of the Federation of Citizens Associations as well as the public and newspaper reporters had been definitely excluded. Raiph B. Fleharty, people's counsel, will be admitted. The conferees are expected to include the members of the commission, Fleharty, William F. Ham, president, and S. R. Bowen, vice president and geneal counsel, of the Washington Railway & Electric Co.; John H. Hanna, president, and G. Thomas Dunlop, vice president and general counsel, of the Capital Traction Co. Harley P. Wilson, chief owner of the Washington Rapid Transit Co., and a member of the board of directors of the North American Co. of New York and the Washington Railway & Electric Co., and William G. McAdoo and Brice Clagett, counsel for Wilson.

Plans Not Definite.

Members of the commission indicated that they have no program beyond the point of entering into the confidential meeting today with the street car men. In the meantime dissatisfaction was heard from federation representatives with the removal of merger consideration from public to private meetings. Both William McK. Clayton, chairman and W. H. Roberts, vice chairman of the federation committee on public utilities, stated that they would make no effort to "break into" the meetings from which they have been barred. They will not, how er, end their opposition to the merger agreement as it exists, but w'l wait until it reaches Congress, before the committees of which, if it is not modified to overcome the objections of their committee, they will assail it afresh.
